COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 3.

CONSOLS in London remain at par, and the only alteration in the other Stock Exchange quotations is an improvement of ⅛ in 4½ per cent. Rupee paper.

In Mincing-lane Linseed is partially 6d. per quarter lower, and Wheat is dull at a decline of 6d. per quarter to arrive.

The Liverpool Cotton market remains dull, the sales yesterday being only 8,000 bales, including 1,500 Surats, which of themselves, owing to their scarcity, keep steady. Americans on the spot are quoted 1-16d. lower, but March-April delivery is 1-64th higher. In Surats the only change is an advance of 1-16d. in good ginned Broach on the spot. From New York the quotation for ready Cotton comes the same, 11 cents, but futures are 6 points higher at 11·41 for May, 11·51 cents for June. The receipts for the two days are light, the following being the comparisons with the two previous years :—

	1885.	1884.	1883.
Two days' receipts.....	11,000	20,000	37,000
Three days' do.	23,000	35,000	60,000
Total since 1st Sept.	4,125,000	3,990,000	4,381,000

The result of the news has not been to cause any change here. Sellers are stiffer a little owing to the improvement in futures, but there is no increase in the home demand, and consequently there is just as little buying as ever. We hear of some purchases of Julgaum at Rs. 191 to Rs. 193 for about good, and ginned Khandeish at Rs. 187 to Rs. 188 ready ; but no transactions of any moment for future delivery are reported. Quotations are practically the same :—

	Good.	Fully Good.	Fine.
Bengals, ready.....	Rs. 164	Rs. 173	Rs. 182
Omras "	195	200	208
Broach, March	225	..	..
Dholleras, April.....	197	202	210

WHEAT is still in free supply, and on the basis of Rs. 3⅜ to Rs. 2¾ per candy for White Pessy finds but a limited demand.

SEEDS are dull all round and unchanged in value.

FREIGHTS exhibit no special change. Rates are the same, but the inquiry on the part of shippers, both ready and forward is extremely limited. Owners, however, keep very firm, and as a rule decline 2s. 6d. open charter for this month's loading.

IMPORTS are unaltered.

EXCHANGE.—Private messages quote Bar Silver in London at 43¾d., and we opened here this morning with a fairly firm appearance and an advance of 1-32nd all round. Later in the day, on receiving quieter accounts from Calcutta, the banks reduced their buying rates again to the previous level, making closing rates :—

Bank Bills on demand	Is. 7 5-32d.	per rupee
Do Telegraphic	Is. 7 1-16d.	"
Credits, 3 months' sight.....	Is. 7¼d.	"
Francs "	2 0⅛	"

GOVERNMENT PAPER is dull, and for cash rates are Rs. 97 11-16 for Fours, Rs. 100 for Fours-and-a-half. For 1st March delivery Fours have been done at Rs. 97¼.

The SHARE MARKET is inactive. For Spinning Mills rates are partially Rs. 5 weaker in some cases, but generally there is next to nothing doing. In Press shares, Mofussils are down to Rs. 390.

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be overrated ; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, save by the highest medical authority, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight ; and no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is proved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Menist, we are not only in a position to supply sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1885.

IN a recent Government Gazette there appeared a letter from Major Firebrace, R.E., to the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, replying to their inquiries as to railway extension in India generally, and Central India in particular. The concluding paragraph states that "the Kutni-Umaria section of the Belaspoor-Etawah Railway has been provisionally begun as a State line, 5′ 6″ gauge, pending the formation of a company to take up the entire project." The section here alluded to connects the Rewah coal-fields with the East India Railway. It is a short line of only forty miles out of the 352½ miles which is covered by the entire project, but it is the raison d'être of the whole, as had it not been for the Rewah coal deposits the line would never have been proposed. The concluding part of the paragraph is misleading, as from it one would infer that some definite scheme with a bonâ fide company was under consideration, which it was the intention of the contracting parties to carry to a result. The fact is that there is nothing of the kind which will ever lead to the advantage of the coal-consuming public. The Government of India have offered the Rewah coal-fields all over London for the last two years to any leading firm who would float a company to construct the entire line of 352½ miles and work it at their own cost and risk, accepting the Rewah coal-fields and the certain profit arising from the sale of the coal in lieu of a guaranteed interest. But there are insuperable difficulties in the way of such an arrangement being accepted by any company. The Government engineers, after a nasty survey, estimate the gross cost of the line at 245¼ lakhs of rupees ; but railway engineers who have been along the alignment estimate the cost at something over 300 lakhs, supposing that no unforeseen difficulties take place during the construction. Now, if we take the annual output of the coal-fields at 200,000 tons, which is by no means a small quantity, and one which will require five years of good management to accomplish, it will require a net profit of seven rupees eight annas per ton, or fifteen lakhs of rupees, to pay a dividend of 5 per cent. upon the capital employed ; and as the line, taken as a whole, will certainly not pay more than its working expenses for some years to come, the interim interest must be drawn entirely from the profits on the coal. To realise this amount, however, the coal cannot be sold under Rs. 10-8 to Rs. 11 a ton at the pit's mouth—a price which, if not prohibitive, completely neutralises the geographical advantages of the coal-fields for supplying a cheap and good fuel to the Central Indian railway system. Such are the difficulties from a commercial point of view ; and the political ones are equally insuperable.

No private company would undertake to make the 352 miles of railway and work it, and expend some ten lakhs of rupees on coal-mining in a native State, without such guarantees from the Government of India, and confirmed by the Secretary of State, as neither the one nor the other is capable of legally granting. The mineral wealth of the State of Rewah is doubtless enormous, but its arbitrary development can scarcely be forced by the irresistible power of a suzerain Government, whilst acting as trustee for the minor, the present Maharajah, even though it be for the benefit of the State and the enhancement of its revenues. When the minor comes of age and is entitled to receive back his kingdom, he surely must be allowed to have the option of leasing the revenues of his State, or dealing with them directly as a Government monopoly, whichever he and his council may decide upon. It will be very unfair if he finds that his

GERMAN ANNEXATIONS IN THE PACIFIC.

AGITATION IN AUSTRALIA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

COLOMBO, FEB. 2.

The annexation of New Guinea and the Pacific islands is the absorbing topic of conversation in Australia. Lord Derby is blamed for allowing Germany to carry out her annexation policy. Public meetings have been held, and the people are unanimous in condemning the inaction of our Government. Such disarray of feeling has been witnessed since the agitation against the transportation of convicts from Great Britain. A conference of the Australian Premiers is proposed.

Meanwhile the Colonies are making individual representations to Lord Derby. Major-General Scratchley will visit each Colony in turn, and when a general agreement is arrived at he will leave for New Guinea, probably in February.

The allowance voted by the Colonies towards the cost of the protectorate is insufficient. If the whole of New Guinea had been annexed, except that part which the Dutch claim, the Colonies would cheerfully have given double the amount.

ENGLISH CRICKETERS IN AUSTRALIA.

The English cricketing team has beaten the Colonials by 401 runs on the first innings. The Australians made 279 in the first innings, and 126 in their second. Mr. Spofforth has written a letter expressing disgust at the late conduct of the Australian teams.

The match at Melbourne with the second Australian eleven was won by Shaw's eleven after four days by ten wickets.

The English team have not been beaten yet in any match.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL SARTORIUS has promised to lecture at the Sassoon Institute on the 18th of the present month upon the Soudan, a subject upon which, from his experience of Soudan warfare, he is peculiarly able to speak.

THE Port Officer has received a telegram from Calcutta, announcing that the intermediate lighthship has been burnt, and that no light is now exhibited.

THERE were 55 and 43 feet of water in Vehar and Tulsi Lakes respectively, on Friday last.

A MOST unfortunate occurrence necessitated the postponement of the meeting and banquet of the Lodge Caledonia at Freemasons' Hall on Monday evening. The Master-Elect for the ensuing year is Mr. E. H. Moscardi, B. A., Assistant Judge and Sessions Judge at Thana. Mr. Moscardi left Thana early in the afternoon to come to Bombay for the ceremony, but to the surprise of the brethren he did not put in an appearance at the lodge. After waiting some time the proceedings were abandoned. Inquiries were immediately instituted, as it was feared some accident had befallen him, but the mystery was not cleared up until yesterday morning. Intelligence was then received that Mr. Moscardi was safe at Thana. It appears that after reaching Bombay he entered the Jubbulpore mail-train, intending to alight at Byculla, but being seized with a fainting fit he was carried some distance up the line before his state was discovered. The welcome intelligence of his safety at once terminated the anxiety of his relatives, as well as that of his many friends in Bombay. We are glad to hear that Mr. Moscardi had yesterday sufficiently recovered to resume his duties.

IT is stated that five hundred dacoits have burned and plundered the Khandoe village, about twenty-five miles south of Mandalay.

A CALCUTTA paper states that the Commissioners of the South Suburban Municipality have moved Government to appoint a "European officer of standing" as Chairman.

MR. JUSTICE CUNNINGHAM does not go home in the spring, as would appear to have been his earlier intention, but summers at Simla.

MADRAS does not appear to be any better off than Bombay in the matter of cabs and cab-fares. Referring to the correspondence that has appeared in the Bombay Gazette, a Madras paper asks:—"Why cannot our Municipality or Commissioner of Police follow the effective manner employed by Sir Frank Souter to revolutionise our hackney system here? Why cannot jutkas be made to charge only legal and authorised fares, and why cannot their punishment for contempt of law be more summarily arranged for, than it is at present? What is to prevent our town improvement authorities from so lowering the rates of the disreputable vehicles and miserable horses we have, and offering such remunerative rates for better carriages and horses, that, without any original cost and outlay to the public, they will be supplied with such improved 'hacks' that their enhanced rates will be cheerfully and willingly paid? The Madras jutka is the most excruciating as the ordinary hack is the most disreputable-looking vehicle in use in the world, and to permit them to be the only ones available in the several hackney carriage stands throughout Madras is simply scandalous."

MR. GINWALLA'S essay on the constitution of the Indian Civil Service, in which he upholds the present order of things, has met with emphatic and indignant disapproval in the native press. The Voice of India says:—"The native press cannot tolerate the idea of race distinction in such matters. Every one of the writers quite with horror the suggestion that Royal pledges and Parliamentary statutes have a limited value practically, and that they are not so binding as may appear in theory."

"FANCY," says the Globe, "the Sultan 'nobbling' Mr. Wilfrid Blunt! That is the strange idea that somehow has penetrated Sir George Campbell's head. The result is Mr. Blunt's entire change of view. Now, nothing ever changes Sir George Campbell's view. It is unalterable, immovable as the fixed stars. But it does not resemble those luminaries in any other respect."

MR. H. H. JOHNSTON, the explorer, has returned from the Kilimanjaro, says the Athenæum, fully satisfied with the climate and the inhabitants. The inhabitants seem to consist chiefly of lynxes, buffaloes, and elephants.

A CORRESPONDENT writes from Simla on the 29th ult.:—"Simla has of late been favoured with a snowfall worthy of the name, and all anxiety regarding scarcity of water, similar to that experienced last summer, should now be at an end. For some weeks past the weather has continued unsettled, rain and snow falling at intervals, but in small quantities. It was not, however, until the night of Tuesday, the 27th, that any fall occurred, which could be counted upon to make any appreciable difference in the supply of water to be expected from the catchment area. Showers of rain fell during the daytime, and a high wind continued to blow during the night. Wednesday morning revealed Simla shrouded in white, with snow still falling heavily. This continued till evening, when the clouds dispersed and a lovely moonlight night gave Simla a most picturesque appearance. The snow on the ground ranged from one to two feet in different parts of the station, Jakko as usual being most deeply covered. Not a cloud is to be seen in the sky to-day, and the brilliant sunshine is fast changing the aspect of the place, and reducing our roads to a state of indescribable slush.

SOME of the Chinese under British rule have been settling a divorce case in a novel and rather decided manner of their own. There are difficulties in the way of other people applying to the English courts in such cases, as the fact of the length of a Chinaman's purse regulating the number of his wives makes questions of bigamy rather awkward. In the case in question the neighbours, therefore, took the law into their own hands; and as each of the married pair had been unfaithful, they decreed, and carried out too, on the pair the Chinese punishment of "cutting into a thousand pieces."

A NEW experiment is to be tried in connection with Cooper's Hill College. Since 1867 candidates for the Indian Forest Department have completed their professional education in France and Germany, and in all 79 officers trained in this way have come out to India. The idea of making the Department independent of foreign countries has been discussed for several years past, and the Government of India, while admitting the desirability of a National Forest School in England, have repeatedly expressed doubts as to whether the time had come for making the contemplated change. Their consideration has been that England does not possess forests fitted to be the training-grounds in all the branches of forest science and practice required by an Indian Forest Officer; and hence they suggested that the arrangements with the French and German authorities should remain in force until such training-grounds had been established. It is now, however, proposed that a forest class for officers for the Indian Forest Department should be attached to Cooper's Hill College. The class will open in September next. It is believed that the experiment will mainly depend for its success upon the attitude of those who control the English Crown Forests.

MILITARY NEWS.

THE medical staff, that is, the Army Medical Department of old, as regards the senior grades of surgeon and deputy surgeon-general, will not, under ordinary circumstances, gain any promotion this year, as none of those ranks come under the sixty-years-of-age clause for retirement. Deputy Surgeon-General Francis Holton, however, who retired to half-pay temporarily last August, will be sixty years of age on the 25th September next, and so be retired. The brigade-surgeons give three, and the surgeons-major four, to swell the retired list, mostly towards the end of the year. Brigade-Surgeon S. B. Roe, C. B., will be 55 on the 11th September, and so comes under the age clause. He entered the service in August, 1855; and obtained his present rank on the 1st July, 1881. He is not far off his promotion, but the chances are against his getting it before the fatal day mentioned; it is a hard fate that retires a man who has not reached the top rung of the ladder after having done so much good service.

BOMBAY VOLUNTEER RIFLE CORPS.—The following was the attendance at the J. J. Hospital on Monday evening:—Instructor 1, volunteers 27, total 28.

THE BOMBAY VOLUNTEERS.

CAPTAIN ATKINSON, Adjutant of the Bombay Volunteers, writes to us as follows, to explain his absence from the last three Saturday parades:—

"There is a stringent rule amongst those of the Bombay Volunteer Rifle Association, which lays down that the Poona Detachment B. V. R. C. may be allowed to compete in the annual meeting of the aforesaid association, provided the Adjutant is present to superintend the shooting and collect the moneys. This year the meeting commenced on the 16th and ended on the 24th January: consequently I took my departure on duty to Poona on the 15th, and did not return till Saturday, the 24th, having seen the meeting through and been absent from the two Saturday parades on the 17th and 24th on duty at Poona. On Saturday, 31st Jan., when I was reported as absent again through ill-health, I was absent with leave. I really think it is very lucky, if I may use the word, that I am not more frequently absent on duty, considering that I am Adjutant of both the Head-quarters B. V. R. C. and the Poona Detachment B. V. R. C., the latter seeing nothing of their Adjutant except in September, at the C. I. Rifle Meeting, at the B. V. Rifle Association annual meeting, and at the yearly inspection parade."

THE BOMBAY ARMY.

THE Pioneer writes:—The General Staff of the Bombay Army is, it will be seen, a good—very good—exemplification of the old saying of "Once on the Staff always on the Staff," and this in spite of recent orders issued to vitiate it, and so allow of more officers gaining an idea of the duties of the various appointments thereon. That the heads of such departments as the Adjutant and Quarter-master-General's should have served in their respective offices as subordinates is only right and proper. Brigadier-General Annesley, however, only had a couple of years' experience in such an office before receiving his present appointment, and that was passed in the Horse Guards, with which a few months for the genial post of Aide-de-Camp to H. R. H. the Duke was the sumtotal of his Staff experience. Brigadier-General Bogg, the present Quarter-master-General, served as Deputy for five years, and was a Deputy Assistant during the Abyssinian Expedition. The exemplification however really commences with the Deputy Adjutant-General, Colonel E. A. Green, who first joined the Staff in March, 1863, close on 22 years ago, as Brigade-Major, holding it till March, 1870. He again joined in September, 1873, as Assistant Adjutant-General, and has remained comfortably settled as a fixture till now, succession to his off-reckonings in June next only unseating him. Lieutenant-Colonel C. J. Burnett, of the East Yorkshire (15), the Assistant Adjutant-General, at two different times, has been employed on the Bombay side continuously since August, 1876, and has yet another fifteen months to run before completing his tenure of his present comfortable berth. Major Dundas, Assistant Adjutant-General of Divisions have one and all been appointed from the lower grade of Deputy Assistant, and been given a fresh five years. Lieutenant-Colonel Lloyd, the senior Assistant Adjutant-General's department on the 19th August, 1876, as a Deputy Assistant, and completes his tenure as an Assistant next July. Lieutenant-Colonel Cunningham does so in February, 1877, and has yet sixteen more months to run; whilst Major Dundas, besides having for 5½ years held the Deputy Assistant Adjutant-Generalship of the Southern District at Portsmouth, has been continuously employed out here from the 3rd November, 1880, and will not vacate his present appointment of Assistant Adjutant-General till August, 1880. Major Hore, who is a Deputy Assistant of December, 1880, has been officiating as an Assistant since last June, and it is more than probable he will obtain the permanent vacancy next July. The Assistant Adjutant-General for Musketry commenced his career in the department in November, 1878, and his present billet will carry him half through 1885. The new Deputy Quarter-master-General only left the department in October, 1882, after serving 9½ years in it. Again the three Assistants in this department, to keep that of the Adjutant General's in countenance, have all been appointed from the lower grade, giving them a fresh lease of life. Major Stafford, the senior Assistant, has been continuously on the Staff since February, 1878, and continues so till May, 1886. Major Wingfield, also in April, 1878, and has still to run till the 1st November, 1887; and Major Melliss was appointed—or promoted perhaps, would be more correct—on the 19th December last, after having been a Deputy Assistant since October, 1879; whilst last though not least, Colonel A. Wardrop was appointed Judge Advocate-General on the 1st April, 1881, after a training for it of more than eight years continuously in the Adjutant-General's Department, with seven years' previous Staff service as a Brigade-Major. From the above it will be seen that a certain number—a great number—of good and well-paid appointments have for years been in the hands of a selected few. Out of this circle apparently but few have had a chance, and yet ten of these appointments have been made by the present Commander-in-Chief, even as late as last year and the year before, long after the law had been strictly laid down, at any rate in Bengal, that two years should be passed between Staff billets. Lieutenant-Colonel Lloyd, whose time expires in July, is the only one, except the Quarter-master-General, who did not receive his lift upwards from the hands of General Hardinge. There has been a great cry at home against the Shanti King, but there appears to be a great semblance of it in existence at Bombay. It should be remembered that there are just as good fish still in the sea as ever came out of it, and possibly better; these, however, cannot be found if the best appointments in the service are kept in the hands of a selected few.

THE BARSI-ROAD RAILWAY.

The following letter has been forwarded to us for publication from the Bombay Chamber of Commerce:—

The Secretary to Government, Public Works Department (Railway), Bombay.

SIR,—I have the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 165 of the 23rd instant, covering copy of a letter from the Government of India, dated 12th December, 1884, stating that as the Government of Bombay is not in a position to advance the nine lakhs of rupees required for the construction of the branch railway from Barsi-road to Barsi, the project must remain in abeyance until other conditions arise or private capital is found.

I am desired by the Committee of the Chamber, in reply, to express the deep concern with which they view this decision; which in effect means the practical abandonment of the project, as the other conditions alluded to are presumably such a favourable position of the finances of the Bombay Government as, however desirable, is little likely to arise in the immediate future; whilst a short line like the one proposed, although certain to prove of immense value, both in itself and as a feeder to the main system of the G. I. P., cannot, under present economic conditions in India, be reasonably expected to attract private capital.

It is unnecessary for the Committee at this stage to adduce fresh arguments as to the profitable character of the proposed undertaking. A careful estimate framed by the G. I. P. authorities so far back as 1881 showed a probable profit of five per cent. per annum on the required capital, and this estimate has never been controverted. Indeed, the remunerative character of the project has been admitted throughout, and the position now arrived at, therefore, is that a line of railway which is eminently desirable from every point of view, and which it is conceded is likely to return five per cent. per annum, must remain indefinitely in abeyance owing to an objection to borrowing the necessary capital.

That such a position should exist raises serious apprehensions in the minds of the Committee as to the prospects of railway extension in this Presidency in the future; and the acquiescence of the Bombay Government in the conclusion arrived at in this matter by the Government of India will, the Committee respectfully submit, stand in strong contrast with the energy displayed by other local Governments in aiding the development of branch lines.

The Committee would respectfully urge that it is incumbent upon the Bombay Government to ask that the question may be reconsidered; but in event of the ruling on its present lines being final, they would suggest that the original proposal of the G. I. P. Railway Company, made in February, 1882, to construct the line as a part of their own undertaking, be again strenuously advocated. They are aware that the Secretary of State then intimated that he was not disposed to enlarge the operations of the Company under any arrangements which would involve an extension of the guarantee of interest or the grant of pecuniary assistance to the Company. This decision, however, was anterior to the deliberations of the Select Committee of the House of Commons, which had the result of placing the entire question of railways in India in an altered light; and, moreover, it appeared to contain, to a certain extent, a misapprehension of the exact questions involved. The comparatively small amount required for the construction of the line could scarcely be said to involve an extension of the guarantee of interest, as it could be easily raised by the Company as a portion of their ordinary debenture stock at three-and-a-half per cent. per annum; and for the same reason it cannot be considered to come under the head of a grant of pecuniary assistance to the Company.

The Committee of the Chamber desire me to add that in persistently pressing their views on Government regarding the Barsi branch line, they do so in the conviction that it would be difficult to find conditions more favourable to the adoption of any railway project; and its abandonment would, in their opinion, be a decided retrograde step in connection with railway extension in this Presidency.—I have, etc.,

(Sd.) JOHN MARSHALL,
Secretary.

When no one was looking he managed to conceal it about his person, and walked away. A sepoy near whom he passed saw something bulging out of his clothes, asked him what it was, and discovered the lota. The accused said he had found it. Admitting a previous conviction, he was sentenced to one month's hard labour.

DINNER TO COL. C. J. BURNETT.—This popular officer was entertained at a dinner at the Club of Western India on Tuesday evening, the occasion being his retirement from the office of secretary of that institution, which he has held since May, 1881. He has made many improvements in the club during the time he has been connected with it. He has superintended the recent enlargement and additions to the billiard, card, and dressing rooms, and many other minor improvements, and he has spared no pains to make the club what it really is—a financial and social success. Col. Burnett has been succeeded as secretary by Captain Elliot, Assistant Quartermaster-General, and an exceedingly popular officer in the station. We understand that Col. Burnett is to be married shortly, and we take this opportunity of wishing him "all the good that good can give him."—Poona Observer.

DR. RUTTONJEE OF AHMEDABAD.—A correspondent writes from Ahmedabad as follows:—We are all very sorry to part with Dr. Ruttonjee Hormusjee, G. G. M. C., whose name has become almost a household word in Gujerat, Kattywar, and Cutch. This worthy doctor has won golden opinions among all classes of the people by his long and distinguished connection with Ahmedabad as Assistant Surgeon in charge of the Baichardas Ambaidas Dispensary. He has been in this city for almost a generation, and as a physician, Health Officer, or Municipal Commissioner, his large and sympathetic heart led him to look upon the good of the people as the goal of his wishes, and this he did even at considerable personal sacrifice. The Ahmedabad Club did him the honour of entertaining the doctor to a dinner, at which the elite of the Parsee community were present. A movement was made to present him with a public address, but the doctor's modesty, coupled with his ill-health, disappointed his admirers therein. He must, however, have been agreeably surprized to find a number of his numerous friends meet him at the railway station to see him off on his departure to Bombay, where he intends to retire on pension.

At the festive board ninety covers were laid, and the brethren separated at about 11 p.m., after having done full justice to the sumptuous banquet.

THE SUICIDE AT POONA.

A SAD sensation was experienced on Monday at Wanowrie by the intelligence that Quarter-master and Honorary Captain William John Graham of the Royal Lancaster Regiment, had committed suicide by shooting himself. The deceased was appointed Quartermaster, on the 28th of March, 1874, and was made Hon. Captain on the 18th of March, 1882. For some time back he had been extremely distressed on account of certain debts which he had contracted, and for the liquidation of which he saw no immediate means. His creditors became more pressing of late, and their importunate demands appear to have led him to destroy himself. His conduct up to the end, however, was such that no one would have entertained an idea as to what was working in him. For he attended to his duties as usual, and was in his customary spirits. The night previous, however, he seems to have been exceedingly restless, and on Tuesday morning at a little after eleven o'clock he proceeded to the officers' mess with a revolver. With the exception of a few servants who were knocking about the place, there was hardly anybody else in the mess-room, which is generally about this hour almost deserted. Repairing to one of the inner rooms of the building, the deceased shot himself through the heart. An hour or so later Colonel La Touche, the Cantonment Magistrate, was informed of what had occurred, and an inquest was held. Several officers were present, and a verdict was returned that the deceased had committed suicide by shooting himself while in a fit of temporary insanity. The deceased was buried with military honours yesterday.—Poona Observer.

THE HINDOO WIDOWS OF SURAT.

A MONSTER meeting of the Hindoo mahajuns of Surat was held at the Branch School on Sunday last to consider a petition from a number of Hindoo widows. The hall was overcrowded with leaders of the Hindoo community. Mr. Ootamram Nurbheram, the head-master of the Surat High School, was called to the chair. Rao Saheb Harrilal Dhruv, in submitting the petition to the assembly, said that the widows were like dumb beings, and that it was high time that some means should be adopted for their relief. The speaker stated that Mr. Malabari had done much towards the attainment of the object in view, and that the Government had invited competent opinions on the question. Mr. Harilal concluded by saying that permission for widows to re-marry meant nothing less than stoppage of infanticide.

Mr. Mansaram Ghelabhoy, editor of the Deshi Mitra, then proceeded to give statistics. He said that the population of Gujerat was 2,385,731, of whom 1,326,807 were females and 233,027 of these were widows. This gave an average of 1 widow for every six women. He said that some of the shastris were opposed to the widow re-marriage on the plea of its being opposed to the shastras. Mr. Mansaram demanded to know why the Brahmins received alms from the Shudras, though it was forbidden by the shastras; why did Brahmins ride in the same railway carriage with a sweeper, why did they drink medicines from the public hospitals, though all these are forbidden in the shastras. The speaker pointed out that the shastras directly directed Hindoos to avoid what always act with the progress of time. After two or three others had spoken to the same effect, a committee was appointed to discuss the question.—Guserat Mitra.

THE LATE MR. C. N. CAMA.

THE Gujerati Dnyan Prasarak Mandli (Society for the Diffusion of Knowledge), at its meeting held yesterday evening at the Framjee Cowasjee Institute, unanimously passed a resolution deploring the death of Mr. C. N. Cama, who was one of the active promoters of the society, and had always taken a lively interest in its welfare. It was resolved by the members to record their sense of the heavy loss sustained by the death of Mr. Cama by the society's books, and to forward a letter of condolence to the relatives of the deceased gentleman. In moving the proposition, Mr. Dadabhoy Nowrojee paid a warm tribute of admiration to Mr. Cama for the valuable services he had rendered in the cause of social reform at a time when all the rest of the shettias used to look upon the small band of educated Elphinstonians with suspicion, and place every obstacle they could in their way. Mr. Dadabhoy extolled the courage, the independence, the sense of justice, and the magnanimity of the deceased, and expressed his conviction that without Mr. Cama's assistance the cause of reform would not have prospered to the extent it did. Mr. K. N. Kabrajee, who seconded the motion, while cordially agreeing with that had fallen from the previous speaker, referred to the friendship of Mr. Cama, who could see so far back as thirty years ago that the seeds of reform which were sown at the time by himself and his friends would bear such good fruits as they all had now the happiness to witness. Mr. K. R. Cama, the president of the society, having put the resolution to the meeting, it was carried unanimously. It may be added here that at the third day's hearing the friends and relatives of Mr. Cama subscribed about Rs. 10,000 among themselves, which will form the nucleus of a fund to be devoted towards perpetuating the memory of the deceased in some suitable manner. The Native Philharmonic Society, of which Mr. Cama had been the president from the beginning, is also going to take steps in the same direction

NATIVE THEATRICALS.

THE Alfred Dramatic Company have placed upon the boards of the Esplanade Theatre, opposite the Crawford Market, a new play which attracted on Saturday night a large audience. The company is getting popular with all classes of natives, and as a healthy sign of the times may be noted the presence on Saturday night of a few Hindoo ladies who had apparently effected a compromise between their habitual seclusion and their appearance in a public place of amusement by veiling their faces under their sarees. The play aims at giving a fair picture of Parsee social life, with the immediate object of satirizing the practice on the part of some bachelors to sell themselves to the highest bidder in the matrimonial market. Jehangeer Joga, a foolish young man, who has flung away his school-books in disgust, and endeavoured his studies for dissipation and boon-companionship, is in search of a wife who will bring with her a dowry sufficient to support him in his extravagant habits. He is the Tony Lumpkin of the play who has been utterly spoiled by the caresses of a fond mother, and has become a saucy, petulant, mischief-loving young man that could not be induced to say "No" to any of his wishes, however absurd. The family priest, who combines with his spiritual functions the profession of a match-maker, is set in motion, and he finds out a man in Bombay who would gladly offer the hand of his daughter, plus Rs. 5,000, to Jehangeer Joga. After some haggling about the price, the bargain is struck, and the bridegroom, who at the last moment sees a word that he cannot pronounce, is married by the cowry shells. It is not doubted, would have succeeded in his extortionate demands but for the firmness of the bride's parents. The marriage is eventually celebrated, but the poor girl's wedded life is by no means a bed of roses. She appears to be pourtrayed by the author as the ideal of a Parsee girl of the period, a gentle, faithful, loving creature, whose mind has been stored with a considerable knowledge of English. But with the unkind treatment of her husband on the one hand, and the tyranny of her mother-in-law on the other, life has become almost unbearable to her. Her husband has gambled away her marriage portion; but at last, forsaken by friends and fortune, the young scape-grace returns home a thorough penitent, implores the forgiveness of his wife, which is readily granted, and, in the language of fairy tales, they live happily ever after, couple "eat and drink and enjoy themselves" for the rest of their days. As may be seen, the play is simple in its plot, and with its humorous incidents, and its drolleries and fun, which keep the audience in a roar, it is as good a specimen of its kind as a very
